DOMESTIC RABBITS

They are hopping long-eared furballs.

buck

A doe can produce 3-6 young ones a few times a year. The newborn rabbits are called kittens or kits.

help regulate their temperature not just communication.
like company.
gagging in the
to catch.

Chewing helps wear down the
rabbit's constantly growing
top front teeth (incisors).

The European rabbit is considered the ancestor of the domestic rabbit.

What do rabbits eat?

The rabbit is lying flat to the ground with its ears flattened against its back.

It is frightened.

The rabbit is hopping and running around in excitement.

It is happy.

The rabbit is lying down with an extended body.

It feels good.

The rabbit is thumping on the ground with its hind legs.

It senses danger, or it is angry or scared.

Do you know what it means when a rabbit does this?
